(Associated Press Leased Wire)
RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 30.—Gov. R. L. Smith, president of the Newport News Chamber of Commerce, today told the House committee on currency and commerce hearing connection with several pending pilotage bills, that the Virginia Pilot Association had done nothing to damage Hampton Roads and that he has yet to hear his first complaint from ship owners on rates charged by the organization.

agitation in Newport News over the pilotage question and that the chief disturbance seemed to be in Norfolk. He further stated he had never heard of a complaint on the service rendered by the pilots.

Mrs. Sarah Lee Paine, Norfolk city author of one of the pilotage bills designed to place the association under the jurisdiction of the corporation committee, interrupted Mr. Smith to state that supporters of the measures admitted the service of a pilot was of a high degree of importance. The question at issue, she continued, was that the association had become involved in politics and an effort was being made to place under the proper jurisdiction. She then replied to questions, Mr. Smith stated he believed the commission judges, as proposed in the Milstaid bill, would be a more competent body to handle the matter than the corporation commission. No member of the corporation commission he said, is familiar with pilotage questions.

The total pilothage rate at Hampton Roads is a very small part of the port charges, he continued. The vessel described how the association had requested a "die-out" as a result of the strike at Hampton Roads during a critical period in the World War and had kept ships moving in and out.

Mr. Smith held that it would be the corporation committee at least $150,000 to give pilothage charges an investigation and that he did not see the committee now had sufficient funds to do this.

Ed Hottelss, freight traffic manager of the Chesapeake and O seconded the opinions of Mr. Sm adding that he had never heard complaint from a vessel owner as the pilotage rates.

think it is doubtful that it would just to control pilots when no similar control can be exerted over other similar marine enterprises."

John D. Leitch, Norfolk, steam agent, offered as a witness by Pilot Association sprung a surprise when he testified that he favored the proposed law.

Trinkle Defends Stand On State Deficit; Says People Were Misled

(By the Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 29.—Asserting that he would cooperate with the Virginia General Assembly in reducing budget appropriations just as far as it is consistent with the best interests of the state, Governor Trinkle today defended his stand on the state deficit. He said that the "people of Virginia should not be misled, or at least have to reach their conclusions" without hearing both sides.

Special sub-committee appointed to study the governor's budget and to recommend a policy to follow in regard to the state deficit of approximately $1,500,000 was in session again during the day and night. It was said, will be completed this week.

Governor Trinkle, in his statement, said that the "people of Virginia" were perhaps creating an unjust conception of the matter in the public mind, whether international or not, and that he thought it "advisable to interpret" his recommendations so that the "people of Virginia should not be misled, or at least have to reach their conclusions" without hearing both sides.

Relations between Senator Byrd, 26th district, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, who attacked the chief executive's financial policy as "not providing for removal of the deficit and himself have always been pleasant, the governor asserted. Reports of the meeting of the joint financial appropriation committee of the assembly, before which the governor appeared and was asked a number of questions by Senator Byrd relating to the budget, have resulted in a "great injustice," both Senator Byrd and himself, he continued.

"The budget, which is now before the General Assembly, shows that the total gross revenues which would be available for expenditure of the state departments and institutions during 1924-1925 biennium amount to $60,207,000, an increase of $10,815,000 over the revenues which were estimated for the current two years' execution," he said.

"Senator Byrd asked the reasons for this large revenue, which question was answered by the fact that the funds for roads, including the tax on motor fuels, represented the greater part of the increase, as set forth in detail in the statistical tables

LIVED 3 DAYS ON ALMOST NOTHING

Elderly Woman Couldn't Eat Because of Stomach Trouble

"I have had had stomach trouble for years," says Mrs. William H. Brown, sixty-two years old, of Northampton, Pa. "I could hardly eat a thing. Sometimes I could only take a cup of coffee for three days. I was very weak from pain and want of food. In fact, I almost gave up hope. My mother's Raw Paw Tonic, however, gave me wonderful relief. My appetite is much better. Food doesn't distress me any more. I feel very much stronger and I am going to keep right on taking Paw Paw Tonic until I am well again."

Every weak, distressed, despondent or nervous person should try Paw Paw Tonic. It costs only $1 a bottle at any first-class drug store. "My mother's Raw Paw Tonic," Munyon's, Scranton, Pa.

PAYING FOR THE HOME

"Up to two years ago my money all went to doctors and medicine, as my stomach trouble. I was constantly filled with gas and no medicine helped me permanently until I tried a bottle of Myer's Wonderful Remedy at that time with excellent results. Now I am using my money in paying for my home. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver, and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. NO. 3—UNDERWORLD WIRELESS

"THEY WERE FRISKING US."

In the heart of the White Light District, where red lights might well be twinkling, lies the Slasher's hang-out.

But we couldn't find him when we went looking for him at his apartment. He was eating place, his cigar shop, or any of the other joints where he usually hangs out. So we asked one of his henchmen who was watching us. He said that he didn't know.

As soon as we turned away, he flashed his sword the somebody was looking for the chief. It took less than three minutes for the warning, broadcast by this underworld wireless, to reach the theater where the Slasher was watching a burlesque show with some broad.

He came out at once, and his mob edged in. They weren't taking any chances. Perhaps we were new bulls, brought in for a special clean-up.

Before we could get to the Slasher, several of the gang brushed past us. They were frisking us. But I soon proved that I was a blot and was accepted as a friend. The Slasher gave a sign and the mob dispersed. Then he had a tax put his girl in and turned back.

At the end of my term, "It is hard for the mob to understand what an effort is being made to have it appear that I am trying to foster the deficit on my successor. It would still be a state obligation, and I am not responsible for it. I am only a messenger because of over estimated revenues, which I can hardly be held responsible, and by passing it on to my successor I would be in no way relieve myself of the obligation."

"As against the state deficit, the governor said the foreign items should be kept in mind. The state debt has been reduced to $175,000 in the past two years; the literary fund has been increased $604,000, and the building and equipping of the new state office building and other capital additions at the several institutions have added to the state's property value."

SELZACH PRINCIPALS WILL COME HERE TO ACT IN PASSION PLAY

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The Passion Play given by the St. Patrick's Players at Washington, D. C. last year will be presented next Holy Week in a New York Theatre with the aid of four leading participants in the Passion Play of Selzach, in the Swiss Oberland.

Agreements with the Selzach principals were made by John J. Noonan of Washington, who went to Oberammergau and Selzach for Rev. Francis P. Burney, a director of the American Actors Guild.

Herr Shaas, the Selzach Christus, Herr Amiet, the Pilatus and the manager, Herr Dobler and his wife, have offered to go to the United States for the performance in which it is hoped John McCormack will appear.

Selzach is a village of 1,200, near Zurich. About a third of the population, including both Catholics and Protestants, appear in the play which has been given in that district for 300 years and at Selzach for 30 years. Unlike Oberammergau, the play is given in an enclosed theatre, with the usual lighting and scenic effects. The Selzach production differs also in that it combines the spoken drama with oratorio and tableaux. The play is more of a commercial basis than the more famous German one and the village plans the erection of a $250,000 theatre, so great has been its success.

The American production on a larger scale and more extended to raise funds to be divided between the poor parishes of Maryland and a proposed half million dollar Passion Play amphitheatre to be built on the grounds of the Catholic University at Washington.

Mr. Noonan arranged also for the shipment of soil from the Holy Land for the production.

Swanson Defends Woodrow Wilson In Teapot Probe

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Senator Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, today stood forth as the champion of the navy department in the Wilson administration, stoutly repelling efforts of the Republicans to saddle any part of the responsibility for the handling of the naval oil reserves upon the Democrats.

Senator Swanson was chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee when the Wilson administration was in power, and was intimately in touch with naval matters. As a consequence of the position he held on the committee he was thrown into close contact with Secretary Joseph Daniels of the Naval department.

The Senator told the Senate that Secretary Daniels stood unflinchingly for continuance of the policy of conserving the navy oil reserves, and fought every effort of private interests to gain possession of the fields. He compelled Senator Lodge to admit that this general was the attitude of Secretary Daniels.

In the course of the debate Republicans made the point that under the terms of the act of June 4, 1920, conferring large discretionary powers on the secretary in the matter of the reserve oil lands, Secretary Daniels had authority for certain phases of his handling of the oil properties.

Senator Swanson said that no senators took that position at the time of the passage of the act, and if there had been any idea that such a construction would ever and chances it would never have been passed.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS DECLARED BY U. S. STEEL CORPORATION

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Directors of the United States Steel Corporation today declared an extra dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, amounting to $2,451,513, in addition to the regular quarterly dividends of 12 per cent of the common and 13-4 per cent of the preferred, which jointly totals $12,633,702. Last quarter an extra dividend of 25 cents was declared on the common.

Total earnings of the corporation for the last quarter of 1923, after deducting all operating expenses, estimated taxes and interest, bonds of subsidiary companies, were $49,958,980, an increase of $2,805,300 over the preceding quarter. This exceeded all previous estimates, most of which predicted a slight decrease below the third quarter of 1923.

Considering the amount of net earnings for the last quarter, the present volume of business and unfilled orders on hand, E. H. Gary, chairman of the corporation said full justice to the stockholders required an extra dividend of the common stock of one half of one per cent.

"The corporation," he declared, "intends to keep strong in cash and to be prepared to protect its properties in their rightful position in industrial competition and at the same time to deal fairly and justly, as it sees the situation, to all interests."

MA WHO KILLED HIS STEP-DAUGHTER GUILTY

(By the Associated Press.)
NASHVILLE, Jan. 29.—Walter Byrum, on trial in criminal court for the murder of his step-daughter, Elaine Beasley, 18, on October 16, 1923, was late today found guilty by a jury of murder in the first degree. With the verdict came a sentence of life imprisonment. The girl was leaving the house to report for her position when the shooting took place. Byrum had declared that she "should never do a day's work."

Attorneys for the defense attempted to prove that Byrum was suffering a delusion.

Relations With Greece Resumed By United States

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Greece were resumed today when Secretary Hughes received M. Triamados, Greek representative, in Washington, as charge d'affaires, instructed Ray Atherton, who has been unofficially in charge of American affairs at Athens, to act as charge d'affaires ad interim to the Greek government.

It is expected that the accrediting of a minister will wait decision of Greece of the constitutional question under consideration in Athens.

Relations were severed in 1920 after the death of King Alexander and the return to Athens of Constantine. The regime which followed the latter was regarded as based upon military power with its position unconfirmed by elections. Recent elections now, however, have resulted in the establishment of a government in such a way as to enable the United States to extend formal recognition, although the question of whether a republican or monarchical form of government should be established is yet to be decided at Athens.

In view of the special circumstances which attend Constantine's return to Athens in 1920, the State Department deemed it important, before according recognition to take into account not only the part that Constantine had played in the war but also the policy of the new regime with the acts and obligations of its predecessors and the attitude towards the American and allied powers in the war.

These considerations controlled the policy of the American government during the period subsequent to Constantine's return and prior to March, 1921. Upon the change of American administrations in Washington, the policy of non-recognition, action by the United States, then, separate from that of the allies—it was felt, might be interpreted as an expression of sympathy and support for the Greek republic, Constantine, especially in Asia Minor.

WAYNESBORO WILL BE NAME OF TOWN

(By the Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 29.—After hearing arguments of rival delegations, the House Committee of the Virginia General Assembly tonight voted unanimously to recommend passage of the bill which provides that the name of the recently constructed town of Waynesboro-Bask, be changed to Waynesboro. The losing delegation supported a measure designed to allow the citizens of the divided municipality to choose their own name for the town. Mayor John Noble Maxwell, of Waynesboro-Bask, led the party which pleaded that its name be left for the town to decide.

DOUBLE PROGRAM AT MAJESTIC IS POPULAR

A return engagement at the Majestic Theatre of Pete Pate and his Syncopated Steppers in less than four weeks' time attests the popularity of the show. This was demonstrated last night when another large audience filled the house to capacity, even standing room being taken up. An added attraction that is also proving popular is the Hawaiian entertainers. Combined, the program is worth while.

As for Pate's show, little addition that it is very clever and filled with humor and snappy musical numbers can be said, because the show is still fresh in theatre-goers' minds and those who saw it before no doubt will patronize it again this week. Pate is a comedian who is original and keeps an uproar of laughter all the time. The Texas Black Dots, doing black-face add merit to the performance while numerous specialties are interspersed.

A change in program will take place today with another new bill of Friday.

APINOL

THE PINE ANTISEPTIC (Keeps out infection)

Half the week gone! If there is still a family in this city that has not taken advantage of our offer to give you 10c worth of APINOL free, let this be your reminder and come in while you think of it. This is absolutely the only week that you can get a 30c bottle for 20c. The offer is intended to acquaint 50,000 more families with APINOL, the ideal home antiseptic. There are no restrictions nor exceptions but the time limit—just this week.

APINOL, a product of the Long Leaf Pine, has been tested by Southern surgeons, physicians and nurses for seven years as an antiseptic dressing for cuts, burns, torn wounds and surgical work. APINOL has given remarkable results. One railroad surgeon now leaves the bandage on for ten days and finds no infection. He used to change other antiseptic dressings every second day. A surgeon in a big industrial plant uses APINOL on every wound and did not find a single drop of pus under any one of 2,000 dressings.

Such records prove APINOL the ideal emergency application for use in home, factory, machine shop, garage, outdoor camp and farmhouse, where it can be employed also for the animals. Offensive, irritating, dangerous poisons can be thrown out and replaced with APINOL. You can discard the mild, aromatic, watery solutions that you so often have found ineffective. For APINOL, though powerful is pleasant to use, and children who hide their injuries in fear of the pain of iodine treatment will come in promptly and ask for an application of APINOL.

FLORIDA RESORT BEGINS WEEDING OUT PROCESS

By ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 29.—Palm Beach has a grievance and the writer must hurry to set it straight. Palm Beach says it is not going to be democratic or a social melting pot any longer. It will be democratic only until February 1. That is the ultra season starts and after that time all those who do not "belong" must clear out. They can go across the lake to West Palm Beach if they choose, but when the social curfew tolls on Friday, next no person is allowed to enter the blue book—or to go thru the eye of the proverbial needle.

The weeding out process has already begun. Many persons at the big hotels who had been setting themselves for a long winter stay suddenly discovered that the rooms are "engaged" from February 1 for the remainder of the "season." No amount of protesting or coaxing on their part has any effect with the management. Palm Beach has been run on a schedule for so many years that the thing has become inflexible. February 1 is the dividing line between the socially fit and unfit. If you are not accepted there simply is no place for you to stay.

The line is drawn as strictly at the country club and other places on the island as at the hotels. The pastime of the club can be had by all fairly presentable persons until the February barrier goes up and then it is about as easy for the unwanted to get on a golf course around here as it would be for the proverbial camel to go thru the eye of the proverbial needle.

And so the socially elect are at last beginning to arrive. For instance, there is Mayor Hyland, of New York, who is a regular winter visitor to Palm Beach, but he also waits until the "undesirables are pretty well turned out before he makes his august presence felt.

The mayor has just put in his appearance. Pretty soon he will be joined by notables of New York politics, including John McCooey, the democratic leader of Brooklyn who has been sojourning down Miami way. J. S. Cram, also is present and Grover Whalen, of Tamany may be said to be fairly well represented among the socially elect who are permitted to sojourn hereabouts in the recherche weeks of February.

Really one of the most phenomenal social scenes in the way the season is arranged here. January is a sort of off month. It is the tuning up period. The cottages along the ocean front begin to open up, but there is comparatively little entertaining. The season gains momentum slowly. Servants must be trained and managers got into high gear. The same is true at the hotels.

The enormous Royal Poinciana does not begin to open its doors at all until January 15 and it is the first of the big East coast caravansaries to close. While the "help" is being broken in and while the ponderous machine is getting to top form the gates are left open, as it were, and almost anybody can become a guest. Of course, they have got to have a little money, but they can get in. But if they don't look just right, or measure up to certain standards, they get the air along about this time and then Palm Beach becomes a closed shop and you really must belong if you want to play about a bit.

So while democracy reigns in January, the rule of the select begins in February. Palm Beach takes itself very seriously. It has history and tradition behind it. It views with lofty tolerance the growth of the many resorts about it, but with each new season the cloak of exclusiveness is drawn closer about the restricted section.

Seeking even greater seclusion than is permitted by the present club members of the cottage economy are building a wonderful new golf course some 18 miles down the shore. It is to be called the Gulf Stream Club. There will be polo fields there. Palm Beach has been rather slow about developing a polo center here and has rather let Miami Beach get a good start in that line of sport. The new club will be as secluded as any one could desire.

REBELS GETTING READY FOR A GUERRILLA WAR

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30.—(By Radio)—Revolutionary forces surrounding Vera Cruz are preparing a guerrilla warfare following the crushing defeat at Llanos Grande, Coahuila de Zaragoza, according to wireless messages sent to General Dieguez in Jalisco, by General De la Huerta, revolt leader, which were intercepted and given out by the War Department.

The messages carry the plain intimation that anti-government propaganda, which the De la Huertaistas plan to inaugurate since the purchase by government of arms and ammunition in the United States, will accuse the president in violent terms of tacit engagement to attack upon Americans on the ground that the United States is interfering with Mexican affairs with the ultimate purpose of domination. In Mexico City soldiers making similar campaigns have been secretly printed and distributed.

Complete official reports of the Espinosa victory still are unavailable, although the War Department has announced that sixteen engines and 122 cars were captured during the recent offensive, including sixty cars loaded with food and ammunition and 57 with horses and automobiles. Railway service along the eastern front has been extended from Mexico City to Oriental, the department announced.

Fighting is proceeding in the vicinity of Poncitlan, upon the Jalisco front, where the vanguard under General Alvaro, according to press dispatches from Celaya, headquarters of General Obregon. Poncitlan, the point of the federal advance, has been reached and the bridges over the Zula river burned during the rebel retreat, which makes it impossible for federal military trains to follow closely the loyal advance guard. General Escobar's column has reached Acambaro, the special aid, and pursuing the enemy who have retired to Morelia.

Butler Wins In Encounter With Political Group

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler, director of public safety, has emerged victorious in his first encounter with a group of politicians who sought to interfere in behalf of a police lieutenant demoted because of alleged inefficiency during the director's latest offensive against vice and crime.

Brigadier General Butler yesterday told the politicians that he was boss of the police and that any sum of political interference would result immediately in his resignation and return to the Marine Corps.

The general announced the mayor had upheld his action.

"The mayor's a good boy," he said. "He's right back of me in this rotten job."

Close political observers professed to see in General Butler's skirmish with the politicians the first move of some ward leaders to embarrass the new administration and there were predictions that further efforts to curb the director's activities would be made. Mayor Kendrick, however, made it plain that General Butler had a free rein in the conduct of his department.

ANDERSON IS EXPECTED TO TAKE APPEAL

Convicted of Forgery, Sentence Will Be Set February 8th.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Dry leaders today intimated that Wm. H. Anderson, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, convicted by a jury before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins last night of third degree forgery, probably would appeal the verdict before February 8, the date set for pronouncement of sentence.

Anderson received unflinchingly the verdict, which was returned after the jury had deliberated an hour and forty minutes. With the consent of Assistant District Attorney Pecora, the prosecutor, bail of $5,000 in which the dry leader has been at liberty since the indictment was returned, was continued.

Former Governor Charles S. Whitman, chief defense counsel, in his summation declared that changes in the league's books, made at Anderson's direction, meant no loss to the league while Mr. Pecora argued the changes were made for income tax evasion and that the Federal and State governments and the League had been defrauded.

The change on which the indictment was based, involved transfer of $4,400 from the salary account of O. Bertall Phillips, a collector for the league, to Phillips' expense account, after it had been agreed that Phillips and Anderson were to "split" the former's annual commissions in excess of $10,000 annually.

Hilton Sears Will Be Tried Tomorrow At Wentworth, N. C.

(Special to The Bee)
WENTWORTH, N. C., Jan. 30.—While the case of Hilton Sears, charged with the murder of Mrs. Ernest Purcell, his benefactress in the county several months ago, was set for hearing today, it appeared unlikely that it would be reached until tomorrow morning also a score or more of witnesses for the state. Sears, a youth has determined to plead "not guilty" and the case will probably consume the entire day tomorrow.

Sears is charged with murdering the woman, wife of a prominent Rockingham county farmer who had befriended him, while she was alone at the home near Reidsville. Mr. Purcell was in Danville at the time and Sears is said to have ordered Mrs. Purcell to open a safe in her home where money was kept. When she refused Sears is said to have shot her. She made a dying statement charging Sears with the crime. The youth escaped, but was captured near Greensboro quite recently.

R. M. I. Students Give Excellent Performance

Students of the Expression Department of Randolph Institute, under the supervision of the Director, Miss Pansy Wood, assisted by Miss Margaret King of the Art Department, presented a program Monday evening in the school auditorium, which was excellent in every respect and reflected the high standard of training the young women have received.

The stage setting for both plays was in itself a finished work of art, being a real part of the interpretation of the plays. The character parts were well chosen and each player showed very marked native ability and mastery of technique.

The first play, a pantomime study in black and white, "The Shepherd In The Distance," Holland Hudson, was a bit of finished artistry in which Miss Florence Penn and Miss Sallie Johnson took the parts of the Princess and the Shepherd, with exquisite

GIRLS: USE LEMON TO WRITEN SKIN.

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug-gist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softer and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy white complexion; also to soothe red, rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It cannot be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—adv.

The second play on the program, "The Romancers," Edmond Rostand's most popular comedy, was played by a cast whose histrionic ability, un- studied grace and freshness made the performance a real treat to the au- dience.

Mr. Cassell quoted statistics as placing the property value of rail- roads at twenty billion dollars in the United States, this being a conserva- tive estimate.

He further stated that in 1923 the railroads of the country hauled the greatest amount of freight ever handled in any previous year and that they look forward to a larger amount in 1924 which will exceed all records in the history of railroad transportation.

Love Song Gives Singer Opportunity In Opera

By JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Just a song at twilight—

But it spelled romance for a strug- gling engineer named Charles M. Schwab and an unassuming girl nam- ed Euranina Dinkey.

It wove itself into those events which raised Charles M. Schwab to be one of the great millionaires of the world and gave to Euranina Din- key Schwab the world's most beauti- ful collection of jewels.

And finally it reached out and brought into a childless home a girl who was finding the road to fame and fortune pretty rocky.

The girl is Merle Alcock who was signed up by the Metropolitan Opera Company the other day. All signs sooner or expect to make the Metro- politan. Maybe Merle Alcock would have made it anyway.

But the road was considerably shortened because Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, remembering a certain song back in 1883, reached out a helping hand. It is the first hint of the real romance in the life of a woman who has consistently kept herself away from the public. This is the way Merle Alcock tells it:

"Mr. Schwab was an engineer for some steel company back in 1883 when he had occasion to call upon a Mr. Dinkey in Loreto, Pa. In the living room a girl was singing. It was a simple song—the kind that music teachers give their pupils."

"Mr. Schwab paused by the door. He loved music and had himself learned to play the piano. He went in and asked Euranina Dinkey if he might not play for her while she sang. Euranina said she might."

"After that he wanted to come again and again but Euranina would only let him come when her pro- fessor had given her a new song to sing. A few months later they were married."

Prosperity is a pleasant thing but Mrs. Charles M. Schwab found that it leaves very little time for the cul- tivation of one's musical talents. She sang the old songs less and less.

An organ was set up in the great stong mansion at Riverside Drive and 13rd street, and Archer Gibson was regularly employed to play upon it. Artists of the concert stage were invited to sing.

Then one night back in 1916 there was introduced a girl, dark-haired and a little frightened. She was Merle Alcock and somebody had just told her she'd never be a success be- cause she hadn't any personality.

Merle Alcock sang and Mrs. Chas. M. Schwab listening forgot the stone mansion and the expensive organ and the dinner guests. She saw instead a modest living room back in Lore- to, Pa. and a girl with her heart in her throat and a young man bending over the music.

"My dear," she told Merle Alcock afterward, "your voice sounds just as mine did when I was a girl."

Fortworth Miss Alcock became the protegee of Mrs. Schwab. She will do many of the things that Mrs. Schwab might have done if she hadn't been the wife of a millionaire.

All of which is the story of how a little song reached through the years and made three people happy.

Mrs. Hansen's eldest son was a lieutenant in the world war and was killed in the Argonne Forest, American Legion posts and auxiliaries, for this reason, she said, helped her along the way.

This is the second trip Mrs. Hansen and Mr. Pearson of an adjacent coun- ty.

"This is she."

"Hello, Ruth, I didn't recognize your voice."

"Is that you, Leslie, when did you get back?"

"Last night."

"I guess you think I am a big fool, Leslie?"

"Perhaps you did the same thing I would have done myself, but any- way, you certainly have kicked up a mess. If you had to put that money in my safe, why did you wait until so late in the afternoon?"

"Well, you see, Leslie, I was aw- fully busy until just before closing and I thought I could get away be- fore Jack came in. Was he awfully angry?"

"Very. He told me never to speak to you again. He seems to think Harry sent you that money to pay on his debt and that you were put- ting it to your own use."

"Car you beat that, Leslie? To think that Jack of all men could ex- pect Harry Ellington, who betrayed him in every way possible, could ever send him back a cent of the money he stole from him. He is mighty quick to say the woman did it."

"Don't feel hurt, Ruth. I wouldn't have told it to you at all, but we have got to reach some plan of ac- tion in the matter."

"What have you already told Jack, Leslie?"

"I declined to tell him anything."

"Perhaps you had better tell him the truth."

"Think a minute and you will find that I cannot do that. I will try and see you tomorrow, however. In the meantime I have had a number of packages sent to your shop. I bought some lovely things for you to sell."

"Are you sending the money back to Struble & Struble today?"

"My dear girl, I can't do it. Jack has it with him."

"Good Lord, what are you going to do, Leslie?"

"Really I don't know. I am relying on you to think up some plan between now and tomorrow."

An English boy wrote: "Please give a Berlin boy something good to eat at my expense. I should sug- gest, cheese, for I am fond of it my- self."

What We Forget Between 15 and 50

Schools teach, and nearly every home applies the rule against coffee and tea for children.

When middle age comes, a great many people remember the facts about the caffeine drug of coffee and tea, and how its regular use may disturb health. Often they have cause to remember what it has done to them.

How much better it would be not to forget—and avoid the penalties!

COAL COMPANY IS

BLAMED IN REPORT

(By the Associated Press.)
JOHNSTON CITY, N. J., Jan. 29.—A coroners jury which investigated the death of thirty-three men in an explosion at the East Side Mine of the Crerar-Clinch Coal Company last Friday, today returned a verdict censuring the company.

The verdict said the explosion was caused by a "sequence" and a fall of coal in an old work'ng. Lancer signs had been posted, but removed, and the verdict said the jury "condemned the action of the coal company and its management that participated in the removal" of the signs.

The bird, it is limited only by the range of his notes, according to report. Neighbors say he can reproduce the air of "Listen to the Mocking Bird," with the exception of one low note which he cannot reach. Johnnie is reported to have several other tunes in his rep'ire.

GERMAN CLAIMS HIS CRITICISM IS RIGHT

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—In spite of his ostracism by his own family and all officers of the old German army, Count Zedlitz-Truetschler says he is still convinced that he was right in publishing his book, "Twelve Years of Life at the Kaiser's Court," which created so much excitement among families which were associated with the imperial house.

The count says he wrote the book with the intention that it be not printed until 1970, and caused it to be sealed with instructions that it be held until that date. But when the former emperor published his memoirs, and other officers and statesmen printed books in violation of old traditions, the count felt it was his duty to bring out his book and let it confirm or deny the statements of other men concerning the same period.

"I thought it was fairer to stand the storm my book might raise than to force one of my sons to do so," says the count. "Whoever reads my book without prejudice will realize that I have no desire for sensation, but simply wish to serve my country, be it republic or monarchy, by persuading men to speak their convictions and not to baffle them because of personal advantages, as did many of the officials about the emperor."

To the men who boycott him because of the book which put Hindenburg and many other prominent figures in the light of cringing flatterers of the emperor, Count Zedlitz-Truetschler says: "But you, my friends, who now bar me from society, beware! The weapon you are using against me is most unethical. It may cause many in the future to be silent instead of telling the truth. Not everyone is ready, as I am, to live and die alone."

PAIRS MORE PANELS.
The three words, "Pairs More Panels" do not make a readable sentence, but they form a good puzzle. The letters of each word may be rearranged to form the name of a different city. All three cities are in Europe, and they are well-known. Can you discover them?

The total of spots on sides A, B, C, D, and E is 20. The reason is this: The opposite sides of dice always total 7. Thus the totals of the tops and bottoms of three dice will always be 21. As the top side of the top dice (in the drawing) is 1, that number subtracted from 21 gives the desired total. Had it been 2, the total would have been 20, etc.

AT MAJESTIC MONDAY.
"The Old Sock" Coming With Raymond Hitchcock in Title Role.

Conspicuous among the theatrical offerings announced for an early visit to this city is the rather surprising news of the appearance of Raymond Hitchcock Monday, February 4, in straight comedy. So long prominently identified with the frothy characterizations peculiar to the popular comedian will arouse interest far beyond the ordinary. That this unique artist is possessed of that ingratiating personality and stage experience and training which equips him for more substantial stage achievements than musical concoctions afford has long been recognized, and the creation of a character of the Hitchcock type in an authentic comedy accounts for his departure from the realm of times and dances.

Don Marquis, up to last August, was famed chiefly for his humorous column in The New York Sun. Suddenly he burst upon an unsuspecting public with a comedy called "The Old Sock," and overnight the columnist leaped into the glare of the season at Arthur Hopkins' Plymouth theater in New York and was declared to be a noteworthy contribution to the style of stage diversion that gained immortal fame for the lamented Joe Jefferson and Frank Bacon. The hero of "The Old Sock" is a lovable type of American whose glaring short-comings are atoned for through his wholesome philosophy and never-failing humor. The manager and emphasized the declaration that the title bears no significance to the prevalent topic of prohibition. Prices 50c to $2.50, plus tax. Seat sale Thursday. Mail orders now.

TRACK COACHES TO DIVIDE THE WORK
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The Association of College Track Coaches of America will be divided into three sections, one for the east, one for the middle west, and one for the Pacific coast. If plans now being considered are approved, according to Harry L. Hillman, of Dartmouth, secretary of the association.

The association, organized five years ago for the purpose of improving general athletic conditions and making suggestions to the several intercollegiate athletic bodies, now has 45 active members and one honorary member. William "Tooch" Donovan, former Harvard track coach who now confines his duties to training the Harvard football and baseball teams.

Each section of the country is represented in its membership and the proposed division of the organization

JACKSON BRINGS HIS $18,500 SUIT
(By the Associated Press.)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 29.—The $18,500 salary suit of Joe Jackson, former Chicago American League baseball player, against that club began here today with the impaneling of a jury in circuit court before Judge J. J. Gregory.

Jackson was dismissed with seven other Sox players following the charge of "throwing" games in the 1919 world series.

Jackson's counsel announced the plaintiff would advance the claim that the "ten day clause" was placed in the contract because he was unable to read. The clause, he said, enables a club to release a player on ten days' notice, although the player is bound for the life of the agreement.

The court allowed to stand, over objection of counsel for Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox

Her New Role Is Off Stage

BELLE BENNETT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Federal officials have cast Belle Bennett, actress, in her most unpleasant role. Complications, such as have figured in few of her plays, now enter into a maze of charges and allegations. John Geller, a film producer, claims her as his wife. Geller, while in the navy, is alleged to have sent alimony checks to the actress and she, in turn, is alleged to have collected them. Whether or not they actually were married is one matter in dispute and a five-year contract to live with Geller as his wife enters into the case. Miss Bennett says she never saw the checks and denies living with him as his wife.

Wild Scenes In Stock Market

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—One of the wildest stock market sessions in recent years took place this morning, when thousands of buying orders poured onto the floor of the exchange as a result of the declaration of an extra dividend of fifty cents on common stock of the United States Steel Corporation, initial gains of active issues ranging from 1 to 6 points. The first sale of U. S. Steel common which was recorded for several minutes because of the accumulation of orders was 7,000 shares at 106 or 2 3/4 above yesterday's close. Wall Street was taken completely by surprise by the size of the extra dividend and the substantial increase in the earnings of the steel corporation for the last quarter of 1923. Professional bear traders, who had been selling stock freely on the expectation of purchasing their substantially lower, failed to cover their commitments. When the opening gong sounded the steel pool was surrounded by scores of wildly shouting and gesticulating brokers. It was nearly ten minutes after trading began before an opening price could be decided upon. The first block of 7,000 steel at 106 was followed by a block of 1,500 at 105 3/4. Upwards of 50,000 shares of steel changed hands in the first half hour. Davidson Chemical soared six points. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe 4 1/2 and Pan-American B. General Electric, American Can, Bethlehem, Republic and Gulf States Steel 2 to 3.

A Gallant Courtier

A Frenchman was courtier an English girl Her mother said, mischievously.

"Now, monsieur, if my daughter and I were drowning, which would you save first?"

With great presence of mind, he replied:

"I would save madame, and I would perish with mademoiselle!" London Daily News.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The market has been in need of a new stimulant—a real stimulant not the imitation sort that is now being offered by picking one or two stocks and forcing them up five points or more in one session. We have needed something to neutralize the effect of the depressing news from Washington. News from there has been as depressing as in the dark days of the war. The steel corporation has provided in the dark days of the war. The steel corporation has provided what may prove to be the real stimulant—a fine financial showing and liberality towards stockholders. If something of this kind does not start another wave of general buying then I would begin to pursue a cautious course and reduce commitments.

No Maiden Name for Her

A colored mammy came into the office of the estate, for which she worked, to receive her monthly wages. As she could not write, she always made a cross on the receipt. But on this occasion she made a circle.

"What's the matter, Linda?" the man in charge asked. "Why don't you make a cross as usual?"

"Linda explained earnestly: 'Ah done got married yesterday and changed mah name.'—Dry Goods Economist.
